

Worship and Music 2022

Eileen Edwards starts the prelude. The sanctuary becomes still as we prepare to worship our Lord. Pastor Summer, volunteer liturgist, tech crew members and the choir lead us as we celebrate together each Sunday.

Following a joyous postlude many of us continue our worship as we enjoy food, conversation and sharing in the Fellowship Hall. Thanks to all who have provided refreshments.

Communion was served the first Sunday of each month and on Good Friday and Easter Sundays. Thanks to Sandy Colwell for serving as our communion steward and to Greg Stephens and Jane Wilcox for baking the bread.

We joined with Community members for an Easter Sunrise Service at the Battle Field.

Advent began November 27. Jim and Vicki Wilson had set up the sanctuary tree and following the service wreaths, swags, lights and banners were added. Poinsettias arrived December 4. Advent Candles were lit by John and Mary Jo Deans, Sue Chawgo and her granddaughters, Ben, Enzo and Ashley Franzosa, and Diana Woodhouse and Hanna Kenney.

Pastor Summer led a Blue Christmas service the week before Christmas. A blizzard cancelled Christmas Eve and Christmas Day services. Our tech crew were able to put together materials for home viewing.

Toby Schilling has filled as pulpit supply and Patti Stephens and other members have led in worship when COVID sidelined Summer.

Patti Stephens has extended our worship outreach in the community with hymns ringing out from the Tower bells before services every Sunday.

Thanks to Nancy Cowell, our Narthex door greeter, for serving each Sunday. Thanks to Dick Stephens for heading up our tech crew and directing choir. Thanks to all who have become a part of the tech crew. Thanks to all who have served as liturgists.

Respectfully Submitted
